NEW LIFE CHURCH
LOCAL MINISTRY
INTERNSHIP

This internship is all about loving people.

Your time in Colorado will be spent glorifying God, propelling your future, equipping people to serve, and blessing the people of Colorado Springs. Throughout your year with Local you will gain experience, resources, and the desire to love people well and reveal and proclaim the Kingdom of God to the places and people we have adopted as our own.

There are five components to interning!

TRAINING ... own your calling

Get to know the Local vision, mission, and purpose, integrate as a family, have some fun, spend time in prayer and the Word, THEN you will strategically take ownership of how you engage the responsibilities of your role in Local.

TITHE YOUR TIME ... personal development

As an intern you will be required to spend 10 percent of your workweek developing a personal passion in a way that honors God and reflects his nature and character. Think coffee, rock climbing, painting, hiking, writing—you! You will also go through a personal identity workshop throughout the year to help understand your unique gifts and calling.

SERVE AND SUPPORT NLC LOCAL ... love your people

Much of your time as an intern will be spent supporting the local fellowship, sustaining current ministry projects, and continuing development towards new ways to engage the city with love.

LOVE : YOUR PEOPLE

FAMILY

Being an intern is not like being a hired hand. We are bringing you into our lives, our homes, and our relationships. One-on-one meetings, cultural off-site experiences, pastoral oversight, and bi-weekly feedback from you and to you are all part of the way we do family.

REPLACE YOURSELF ... propel your calling

Throughout the program, you will be responsible for researching potential next steps for your life. This will be done in conjunction with your personal identity development workshop. As the time nears, you will send résumés and preparing for the season to come. Every intern will contribute to the overall mission of loving our people. While each intern will have unique responsibilities, guidelines, and goals, they also leave freedom for enhancement, expression, and flexibility. The unique identity of each intern will define in part what the day-to-day looks like.

“Being an intern with Local Ministries was just great for me. I was able to learn a lot about the organization of New Life Church and to develop personal and spiritual skills through various experiences. As an intern, I could participate in practical and administrative areas. I felt warmly welcomed and included by the team.”

— Simone from Amstatten, Austria

“In my year with Local I’ve not only gained practical experience working in ministry, but encountered God’s heart for loving people like never before. It has been absolutely amazing to see lives impacted as we connect the people of God with the people in Colorado Springs. My awareness of who God is has created me to be has been deepened and broadened through ‘The Identity Project’ and by the relationships I have built in this beautiful place.”

— Ashley from Colby, Kansas
